My Journey: Career Paths in National Defense

Thursday, March 31, 2022

1:00pm – 2:30pm EDT

We invite you to a virtual discussion with members of the Department of Defense to reflect upon their respective career paths and share resources – including scholarships, internships, and hiring mechanisms – that may be available for students pursuing careers in the federal government.

The event will take place on Thursday, March 31, 2022, from 1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. EDT.

This will be an interactive dialogue with leaders from across DoD who will share about their personal journeys into the federal workforce. Students will have the opportunity to learn about career resources and ask questions of the DoD participants. This is not intended as a hiring event, but is designed to provide information on resources for current and graduating students.

If you wish to participate, please RSVP by 1:00 p.m. on Wednesday, March 30, by replying to jonathan.d.evenson.civ@mail.mil with your name and the school with which you are affiliated. The webinar link and dial-in information will be provided upon confirmation. Due to space limitations on the webinar platform, attendance will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

Please also indicate if you are interested in asking a question of the DoD speakers so we can do our best to call upon everyone who wishes to do so. To help our speakers prepare for the conversation, you may also provide your question or topic of interest along with your RSVP.
